Our Story

We care about the mental health of children. Full stop.

We want to make our social, emotional and mental health support accessible to all, which is why I created Happy Mojos; to reach out to children, parents and schools, by offering a fun solution to a heavy problem.

Happy Mojos is built upon more than 25 years of working, researching and educating children. We combine our extensive background in education, children's mental health and wellbeing with proven science backed methods and we create highly effective mind-heart-body approaches that have a significant impact on overall wellbeing and attainment. Our services range from group sessions to 1:1 targeted sessions and is all linked to the relevant curriculum.

Our work with children in schools has led to the development of our extended care and popular after school clubs and holiday club programmes. Bringing our unique combination of fun and engaging activities we help build and support the mental health and wellbeing of children.

We have found the impact of our services reach far beyond the children to the staff which is why we now also offer training to school staff to offer sustainability to our programmes & to empower staff to embed these approaches within your school community.

Have Happy Mojos as part of your wellbeing strategy and see the magic unfold.

Min Robertson

Founder of Happy Mojos

A young child with light brown hair is lying in a ball pit. The child is wearing a black superhero mask with white eye cutouts and a blue t-shirt with a white palm tree pattern. The child's right arm is raised, pointing their index finger upwards. The ball pit is filled with colorful balls in shades of red, blue, green, and orange. A green safety net is visible at the top of the frame. The text "Minds Happy Souls" is overlaid on the image in a white, sans-serif font, tilted at an angle.

Kelly Cooke

AKA Mrs Cookie

Kelly is our wellbeing coach. She has lived in Somerset for the past 7 years and enjoys walking her dog in the Somerset countryside. She also enjoys cooking, reading and listening to music.

In between raising her 2 children, she has worked in the early years sector and within primary schools. She is passionate about children learning through play and having lots of fun!

Happy MojosTM Philosophies

Imagine a place where every child believes in themselves and feels empowered. Our mission is for children to think and feel great, in body and mind; at home, at school and at play.

Mind-Heart-Body led learning

We believe that a whole approach is key to the success of any mental health and wellbeing programme, starting from the internal landscape of a child and mapping this to their relationships with others and reaching out to their environments in which they live in.

Empowering every child

We want to equip every pupil with the mindset that they can achieve, can be who they aspire to be and are able to cope in the classroom & the world around them. We want to empower children with the confidence to shine; raising attainment & life skills along the way!

Nurturing relationships

We believe that relationships with ourselves, others and our environments are key to happiness and wellbeing.

Fun and joy

We combine child development, neuroscience (brain stuff) & positive psychology to create fun and inclusive programmes, clubs and classes where all children can achieve.

Sustainability

We believe that a whole approach is key to the success of any mental health and wellbeing programme. By nurturing our relationships and our spaces that we live, learn and play in, we create strong foundations together with and a sustainable, consistent message of positive wellbeing.

Our Happy Planet

We expand our wellness intelligence out to our natural environment too by ensuring our activities, products and relationships with our natural world are mindful, compassionate, eco friendly and respected.

Why choose Happy Mojos™ ?

Happy Mojos is based on the principle that wellbeing should be a universal right. We help children, schools and families create a culture of positive wellbeing. We nurture social, emotional, mental and personal growth that leads to happy, healthier communities and better school performance.

“...five children in a classroom of 30 are likely to have a mental health problem.”

childrenssociety.org.uk

At Happy Mojos, we strive to quash the mental health pandemic by empowering children, families and communities with a culture of self-belief, compassion & resilience. We use our expert knowledge, experience and proven science backed approaches to create programmes and enabling spaces that seek to nurture happy confident beings.

Pupils with better health and wellbeing are likely to achieve better academically. Effective social and emotional competences are associated with greater health and wellbeing, and better achievement. The link between better health and wellbeing and attainment. NAHT, Public Health England, 2014

Our Programmes work with schools and families for a wraparound, consistent approach to sustainable Social, Emotional & Mental development & wellbeing, removing the need for crisis intervention and NHS support.

“ 5* trusted by Headteachers, Senco’s teachers & parents.”

We help to develop:

- Healthier relationships
- Emotional literacy and self-regulation
- A sense of agency, and, have decreased behavioural needs
- Are happier and more confident
- Believe in themselves!
- Are motivated to learn and have a zest for life!

How do we achieve these results?

We use proven science-backed approaches delivered through creative sessions that are fun, explorative and nurturing that incorporate purposeful play, reflective learning, discovery and mindfulness to build positive relationships with themselves, with others and with the spaces in which they live and learn.

We offer opportunities to play, talk, create, reflect and learn in the context of their own experiences. We weave life skills and coping tools throughout our provisions and programmes, these transferable skills are then embedded into their key environments for consistency. We believe an authentic, whole-school/ whole family approach which encompasses face to face, real experience is the only way to sustain and embed positive social, emotional and mental growth.

We believe the journey is just as important as the outcome, that's why our sessions are taught in person and take an alternative approach to whiteboard and worksheet learning. They are even linked to the curriculum!

Wellbeing and Mental Health Support Programmes For Schools - Universal and Additional Support Services

Our mental health support programme for schools offers targeted intervention support for individual children and groups. This wellbeing and mental health support focuses on the social, emotional, and mental health needs of young people. Every intervention is constructed to support individual needs so that every child can feel empowered, settled and motivated to learn and thrive.

Our Approach To Wellbeing & Mental Health Support

We combine our unique expert children's wellbeing knowledge, the latest mental health research, years of experience supporting young people and schools all alongside proven science backed methods. This creates a highly effective mind-heart-body approaches that help young people to work through their area of need to support their daily lives both in school and at home.

Passionate about improving Mental Health in Schools

In primary schools across the South West, we offer students regular group or individual sessions and one-off workshops.

We use an evidence-based approach and the most current research. These techniques create empowering environments through focused, individual programmes to suit the needs and objectives of the school and each child. These result in life long, sustainable tools which can be adopted throughout their daily lives.

The Happy Mojos team is qualified and experienced with early years and primary aged children, and inclusive of all students' needs and abilities. We promote equality and a passion to be whoever you want to be!

We link to the age-related curriculum for mental health and relationships education.

Supporting Children and Schools (Additional Support)

Supported through Wellbeing and Pupil Premium budgets

We specialise in working with and providing additional support to all primary school teaching staff and school staff including SENDCO's, SMHL and pastoral departments.

Our mental health and wellbeing programmes include: relationships, emotional development, managing transition & change, mindset, managing failure, belonging and identity, self-esteem, resilience and confidence development.

100% of class teachers and SENDCO's have reported measurable positive progress and feel the tools introduced have supported them in class.

100% of all children that we have worked with have made progress in their area of need and feel the tools introduced have supported them in class, at home and play!

This is the perfect programme to support schools in enhancing their wellbeing strategy, SEND and SEMH provision as well as creative positive mental health outcomes for young people.

and how to use my magic toolbox to help me feel better. ”

YEAR 6 CHILD

“ A study from Public Health England shows that schools that put in place programmes to develop children's social and emotional skills, on average, witness an 11% increase in attainment.”

I am kind.

I am brave.

I am strong.

I am loved.

I am helpful.

I am funny.

I am smart.

Stretch & Shine offers an alternative to traditional sports, helping those who are less motivated to get 60 minutes of daily physical activity.

Our wellbeing support programme for schools

Supported through PE and Wellbeing budgets

Our Stretch & Shine programme is a whole school approach to social, emotional and wellbeing programme, supporting the mind-heart-body connection through movement.

These fun and engaging classes and sessions cover five key areas – move, play, breathe, empower and chill. Here, we aim to prevent social, emotional, and mental health needs specific to primary aged children.

Our sessions will take pupils on a journey of self-discovery, awareness, emotional literacy and building resilient relationships, whilst nurturing self-esteem and wellbeing, to help children be shiny from the inside out!

Links to the EYFS and Curriculum guidance for RSHE.

90% of children enjoy the sessions and says it helps them to feel calm and settled in readiness to learn. 78% developed their emotional literacy/ manage emotions. 85% had build go-to tools to support their wellbeing.

This is the perfect mental health programme to support schools in enhancing PPA, enrichment and wellbeing themed planning.

Staff Training

Bridging the Attainment Gap with Wellness IQ

At Happy Mojos, we are dedicated to prioritizing the mental well-being of children, schools, and families.

To ensure sustainability for your school, we have designed a training program that encapsulates the core values of Happy Mojos. This program will enable you to integrate our methods into every classroom, every day.

We will illustrate the connection between trauma and wellbeing and how it influences our pupils. Together, we will assess your school's profile and tailor strategies that align with your school's vision and requirements.

By enhancing the skills of your staff, you are investing in a generation equipped with essential life skills to thrive in today's world.
